What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small text file that is sent to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website and that the website stores on your computer or mobile device when you access the website. On each subsequent visit, cookies are sent back to the originating website or to another website that recognizes the cookie.

Cookies act as a memory for a specific website, allowing this page to remember your device on subsequent visits, including cookies can remember your settings or improve user comfort. You can get additional information about cookies, as well as how to manage or delete them, on the website www.aboutcookies.org

What cookies do we use?

The cookies used on our website fall into three categories:

- Necessary cookies

Necessary (or technical) cookies enable important functions, such as the basic functionality and usability of the website. Necessary cookies are necessary for secure service provision and the website cannot function correctly and fully without these cookies. These cookies identify the user's device, but do not reveal the user's identity, nor do they collect or aggregate information. Necessary cookies are stored on the user's device until the web browser is closed. These cookies do not require user consent.

- Statistical cookies

Our website uses the "Google Analytics" program of the company "Google Inc", which uses cookies that are stored on your computer and allows you to analyze how you use the respective website. The purpose of using "Google Analytics" cookies is to improve the quality of the content of the website and to adapt the content to the needs of users.

You can read more about the terms of service of "Google Analytics" on the homepage.

- Marketing cookies

Marketing cookies are used to tailor advertising and notifications based on the visitor's interests, as well as to measure the effectiveness of marketing activities.

Managing cookies

When you visit the website, a notice is displayed with information about the use of cookies on the website. When you start using the website, you can choose which cookies you will allow to be used. It should be noted that you cannot refuse the use of necessary (or technical) cookies, because without them it is impossible to ensure the full use of websites.

By clicking the "Confirm all" or "Confirm marked" buttons on the website, the user confirms that he is familiar with the LVRTC cookie terms, as well as information about cookies, the purpose of their use, the involvement of third parties, etc., and also confirms his freely given consent for the use of these cookies.

The user can change his menus at any time.

How to change the selected cookies?

You can change the cookie settings or delete them in the Internet browser settings or in the cookie management tool of the website provider.

In the security settings of each browser, you can:

- restrict, block and delete cookies.
- tick "Never accept cookies".
- set the settings, which provide that every time you close the browser, saved cookies are deleted.

More information on how to control cookies according to your device's browser can be found on the website: www.aboutcookies.org.

The user of the website should note that by limiting the use and storage of necessary cookies, the website may function poorly.

The Policy on the use of cookies may be changed in accordance with the laws and regulations governing the use of cookies, generally accepted good practices related to the use of cookies, as well as taking into account the need for the improvement and development of LVRTC's commercial activities. Any changes to the cookie policy will be published on websites operated by LVRTC.
